A National Quarantine Law. VOICE OF THE PEOPLE. Atlanta Constitution. We desire to call the attention of Congress o the fact that the necessity of establishing a ystem of national quarantine is quite as portant to the people of the South—and, for the matter of that, to the people of the whole country-as any legislation now demanding he consideration of the Federal Legislature After the passage of the appropriation bills the egislation necessary to the adoption of a quarantine system at once rigid and stringent should and there should be no delay in perfecting and adopting it. The bill which passed the last Congress towards the close of the session provides merely for a board of health, the func-forcible and terse English, knowledge of partions of which are advisory only. It will result in no good whatever, either to the districts
